

THE PARENT COACH DESK

The Practice Plan Template.

A printable practice plan parents can read. Blank template plus a filled example.

A FREE FIELD GUIDE / v1

The single highest-leverage thing a youth coach can do is share a written practice plan with the parents. Open the template. Fill in the four lines for each session. Share view-only with the parent email list 24 hours before practice.

It takes about 10 minutes a week to do well. The parents who can see the plan stop guessing.

Date / time	_____
Focus of the day	_____
Drill list	5 min: _____ 10 min: _____ 15 min: _____ 20 min: _____ 5 min: huddle & snack
Job for parents	_____

Date / time	_____
Focus of the day	_____
Drill list	5 min: _____ 10 min: _____ 15 min: _____ 20 min: _____ 5 min: huddle & snack
Job for parents	_____

What a real practice plan looks like. Two practices that week, both 60 minutes, both written out the night before.

Date / time	Tuesday, April 16 · 5:30–6:30 PM · Field 3
Focus of the day	Cutoff throws and live BP rotation.
Drill list	5 min: stretching + dynamic warmup 10 min: throwing program (partners, 30 ft) 15 min: cutoff drill at second base (assistant coach leads) 20 min: live BP rotation (3 hitters, 4 fielders, rotate every 4 swings) 5 min: huddle, snack, reminders for Saturday
Job for parents	If you can stay, parents on the third-base line for help during BP rotation are great. Two hands on a wiffle bat each.

Notice what's not in there. A long philosophical preamble. A list of life lessons. A reference to character development. The plan is what we are doing for 60 minutes. The character development happens in the drills, not in the bullet points.

A starter list of drills by age. Steal what fits, ignore what doesn't.

AGE	WARMUP	SKILL	GAME ELEMENT
5-7	Animal walks (3 min)	Throwing partners (5 min)	Run the bases drill (relay style)
8-10	Dynamic stretching	Throwing program	Live BP rotation (3 hitters)
11-12	Dynamic + agility ladder	Cutoff and relay drill	Situational scrimmage (1 inning)
13+	Full warmup, longer arc	Position-specific work	Live game scenarios (2 innings)

Subscribe to the Parent Coach Desk newsletter and we'll send you new templates and short reads as we publish them. One Editorial voice across the site. Cornerstone essays once a month, short reads in between.

Subscribe / read the archive / get the next template

A small site for parents who coach, drive, snack-pack, and supervise the group chat. Edited by Jeff Thomas. Single Editorial byline across the site. © 2026. All rights reserved.